OUTSOURCING SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Agreement is made between Gulf Retail Holdings PJSC (the "Customer") and Northwind Technology Services Ltd (the "Supplier").

1. DEFINITIONS AND INTERPRETATION

1.1 The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

1.2 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

1.3 The Contractor shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

1.4 The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

1.5 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

1.6 The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

1.7 Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Contractor warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

1.8 The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

1.9 Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

1.10 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

1.11 The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

1.12 The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

1.13 The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

1.14 The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

1.15 The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

1.16 The Supplier undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

1.17 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

1.18 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

1.19 The Contractor shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

1.20 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

1.21 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

1.22 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

1.23 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

1.24 Each Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

1.25 Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

1.26 Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

1.27 The Contractor shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

1.28 The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

1.29 The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

1.30 The Supplier warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

1.31 The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

1.32 The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

1.33 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

1.34 Each Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

1.35 The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

2. COMMENCEMENT AND TERM

2.1 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.2 The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Service Provider shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

2.3 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

2.4 The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

2.5 The Service Provider shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

2.6 The Service Provider shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

2.7 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.8 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

2.9 The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.10 The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

2.11 The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.12 Neither Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

2.13 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Service Provider undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.14 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.15 Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

2.16 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

2.17 The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.18 Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

2.19 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

2.20 Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.21 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

2.22 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

2.23 The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

2.24 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

2.25 Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

2.26 Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

2.27 The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

2.28 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

2.29 The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.30 Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

2.31 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

2.32 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

2.33 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

2.34 The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

2.35 The Service Provider undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

3. THE SERVICES

3.1 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

3.2 Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

3.3 Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

3.4 The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

3.5 Each Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

3.6 The Contractor warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

3.7 The Service Provider undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

3.8 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

3.9 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

3.10 Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

3.11 The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

3.12 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

3.13 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

3.14 The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

3.15 The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

3.16 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

3.17 Each Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

3.18 Neither Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

3.19 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

3.20 The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

3.21 The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

3.22 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

3.23 The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

3.24 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

3.25 The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

3.26 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

3.27 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

3.28 Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

3.29 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

3.30 Each Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

3.31 Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

3.32 Each Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

3.33 The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

3.34 The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

3.35 The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4. SERVICE LEVELS

4.1 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

4.2 The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

4.3 The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

4.4 Each Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

4.5 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.6 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

4.7 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.8 The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.9 Each Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

4.10 Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

4.11 Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.12 Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

4.13 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

4.14 Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

4.15 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.16 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

4.17 Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.18 The Supplier undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

4.19 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.20 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

4.21 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

4.22 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

4.23 Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

4.24 The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.25 Each Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

4.26 Each Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

4.27 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

4.28 Each Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.29 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

4.30 The Supplier shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

4.31 The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

4.32 The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

4.33 Neither Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

4.34 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

4.35 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

5. CUSTOMER OBLIGATIONS

5.1 Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

5.2 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

5.3 The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

5.4 The Contractor shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

5.5 Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

5.6 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

5.7 Each Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

5.8 The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

5.9 The Customer shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

5.10 The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

5.11 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

5.12 The Customer shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

5.13 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

5.14 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

5.15 The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

5.16 The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

5.17 The Contractor shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

5.18 The Contractor undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

5.19 The Service Provider undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

5.20 The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

5.21 The Supplier warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Service Provider undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

5.22 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

5.23 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

5.24 The Customer shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

5.25 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

5.26 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

5.27 Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

5.28 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

5.29 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

5.30 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

5.31 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

5.32 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

5.33 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

5.34 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

5.35 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

6. CHARGES

6.1 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

6.2 The Contractor shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

6.3 The Contractor undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

6.4 The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.5 The Contractor undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

6.6 The Service Provider shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

6.7 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

6.8 The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

6.9 The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.10 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

6.11 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.12 Neither Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

6.13 The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

6.14 The Supplier shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

6.15 Each Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

6.16 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

6.17 The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

6.18 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

6.19 The Service Provider shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

6.20 The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

6.21 The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.22 Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

6.23 The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.24 The Service Provider shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

6.25 The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.26 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.27 Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.28 Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

6.29 The Contractor shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.30 The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

6.31 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.32 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

6.33 The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

6.34 Neither Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

6.35 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

7. INVOICING AND PAYMENT

7.1 Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

7.2 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

7.3 The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

7.4 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

7.5 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

7.6 The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

7.7 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

7.8 The Service Provider shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

7.9 Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

7.10 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

7.11 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

7.12 The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

7.13 The Contractor shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

7.14 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

7.15 The Service Provider shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

7.16 Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

7.17 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

7.18 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

7.19 Each Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

7.20 The Service Provider shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

7.21 Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

7.22 The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

7.23 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

7.24 Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

7.25 The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

7.26 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

7.27 The Customer shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

7.28 The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

7.29 Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

7.30 The Customer shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

7.31 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

7.32 The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

7.33 The Contractor shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

7.34 The Customer undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

7.35 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

8. TAXES

8.1 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

8.2 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

8.3 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

8.4 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

8.5 The Supplier undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

8.6 The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

8.7 The Service Provider shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

8.8 The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

8.9 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.10 The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.11 Each Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.12 The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.13 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

8.14 The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.15 The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.16 The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

8.17 Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

8.18 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

8.19 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Each Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

8.20 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.21 The Customer shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

8.22 The Customer shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

8.23 The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

8.24 The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

8.25 The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

8.26 Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Service Provider shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.27 The Contractor undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

8.28 The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

8.29 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

8.30 Each Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

8.31 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

8.32 The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.33 The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

8.34 Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

8.35 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

9. PERSONNEL

9.1 Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

9.2 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

9.3 The Contractor shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

9.4 The Customer shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

9.5 Neither Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.6 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

9.7 The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

9.8 The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.9 Neither Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

9.10 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Contractor shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.11 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

9.12 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.13 Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

9.14 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

9.15 The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.16 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

9.17 The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Each Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

9.18 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.19 Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

9.20 The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.21 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.22 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

9.23 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

9.24 The Contractor warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

9.25 Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

9.26 The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

9.27 Each Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.28 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

9.29 The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.30 The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

9.31 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

9.32 Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

9.33 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.34 Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

9.35 Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

10. SUBCONTRACTING

10.1 Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.2 The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.3 Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

10.4 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

10.5 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Contractor shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

10.6 The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

10.7 The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

10.8 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

10.9 Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

10.10 Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.11 The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

10.12 Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

10.13 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

10.14 The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

10.15 The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.16 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

10.17 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.18 The Customer warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

10.19 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.20 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.21 The Customer warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.22 The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Neither Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

10.23 The Contractor shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

10.24 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

10.25 The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

10.26 The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.27 The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

10.28 Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.29 Neither Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

10.30 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

10.31 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

10.32 The Customer shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

10.33 The Service Provider shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

10.34 Neither Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

10.35 The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

11. CHANGE CONTROL

11.1 Neither Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.2 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.3 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.4 Neither Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

11.5 The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

11.6 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.7 The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

11.8 The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.9 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

11.10 Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

11.11 The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.12 The Service Provider undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

11.13 Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.14 The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

11.15 The Contractor undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

11.16 The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Neither Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

11.17 Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.18 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.19 The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.20 The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

11.21 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

11.22 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.23 Each Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

11.24 The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.25 The Supplier shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

11.26 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

11.27 The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

11.28 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

11.29 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.30 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

11.31 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

11.32 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.33 Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

11.34 The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

11.35 The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

12. GOVERNANCE

12.1 The Service Provider undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

12.2 The Supplier shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

12.3 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

12.4 The Supplier warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

12.5 The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

12.6 The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

12.7 The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

12.8 Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

12.9 Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

12.10 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

12.11 Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

12.12 The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

12.13 The Contractor warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

12.14 Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

12.15 Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

12.16 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

12.17 Neither Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

12.18 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

12.19 Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

12.20 Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

12.21 The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

12.22 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

12.23 The Supplier shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

12.24 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

12.25 The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

12.26 Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

12.27 The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

12.28 The Customer undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

12.29 Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

12.30 Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

12.31 The Contractor warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

12.32 Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

12.33 The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

12.34 Each Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

12.35 The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13. REPORTING

13.1 The Service Provider shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

13.2 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

13.3 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

13.4 The Supplier shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13.5 The Customer warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

13.6 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

13.7 Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

13.8 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13.9 The Contractor shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13.10 Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13.11 The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

13.12 The Service Provider undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

13.13 The Contractor warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13.14 The Supplier shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

13.15 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

13.16 The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13.17 The Contractor warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13.18 Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Service Provider shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13.19 The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

13.20 The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

13.21 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

13.22 The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

13.23 The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

13.24 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

13.25 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

13.26 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

13.27 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

13.28 The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

13.29 The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

13.30 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

13.31 Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

13.32 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

13.33 Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

13.34 The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

13.35 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

14. RECORDS AND AUDIT

14.1 The Contractor undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

14.2 The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

14.3 The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

14.4 The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

14.5 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

14.6 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

14.7 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

14.8 The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

14.9 The Supplier warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

14.10 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

14.11 Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

14.12 The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

14.13 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

14.14 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

14.15 The Contractor shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

14.16 The Supplier warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

14.17 Each Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

14.18 The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

14.19 Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

14.20 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

14.21 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

14.22 The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

14.23 The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

14.24 Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

14.25 Neither Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

14.26 Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

14.27 The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Each Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

14.28 The Service Provider shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

14.29 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

14.30 The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

14.31 The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

14.32 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

14.33 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

14.34 The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

14.35 The Supplier warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

15. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

15.1 Each Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

15.2 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

15.3 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

15.4 The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

15.5 Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

15.6 The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

15.7 The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

15.8 The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

15.9 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

15.10 The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

15.11 Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

15.12 Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

15.13 The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

15.14 The Customer shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

15.15 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

15.16 Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

15.17 The Customer undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

15.18 The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

15.19 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

15.20 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

15.21 Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

15.22 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

15.23 Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

15.24 The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

15.25 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

15.26 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Service Provider shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

15.27 The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

15.28 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

15.29 The Service Provider undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

15.30 The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

15.31 Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

15.32 The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

15.33 The Contractor warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

15.34 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

15.35 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

16. LICENCES

16.1 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

16.2 The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

16.3 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.4 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.5 Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Supplier undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

16.6 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

16.7 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

16.8 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

16.9 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.10 The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

16.11 The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.12 Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

16.13 The Service Provider shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Supplier warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.14 The Customer warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

16.15 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.16 Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business

Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

16.17 The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

16.18 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

16.19 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

16.20 Neither Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.21 The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.22 The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.23 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

16.24 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

16.25 The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

16.26 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

16.27 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.28 The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

16.29 Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change

Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.30 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

16.31 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

16.32 The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

16.33 The Supplier warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

16.34 The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

16.35 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

17. CONFIDENTIALITY

17.1 The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

17.2 Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

17.3 The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

17.4 The Service Provider shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

17.5 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

17.6 The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

17.7 Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

17.8 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

17.9 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

17.10 Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

17.11 Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

17.12 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

17.13 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

17.14 The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

17.15 Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

17.16 Each Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

17.17 The Customer undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

17.18 The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

17.19 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

17.20 The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

17.21 The Supplier undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

17.22 The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

17.23 The Customer shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

17.24 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

17.25 The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

17.26 Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

17.27 The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

17.28 Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

17.29 The Supplier shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

17.30 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

17.31 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

17.32 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

17.33 The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

17.34 Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

17.35 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

18. RESTRICTIVE COVENANTS

18.1 The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

18.2 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

18.3 Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

18.4 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

18.5 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

18.6 Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

18.7 The Supplier shall not, during the Term and for a period of twelve (12) months after its termination, directly or indirectly engage in or be concerned with any business that competes with the business of the Customer within the GCC region.

18.8 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

18.9 Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

18.10 The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

18.11 The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

18.12 The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

18.13 The Service Provider undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

18.14 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

18.15 The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

18.16 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

18.17 Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

18.18 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Each Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

18.19 The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

18.20 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

18.21 Neither Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

18.22 Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

18.23 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

18.24 Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

18.25 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

18.26 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

18.27 The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

18.28 The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

18.29 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

18.30 The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

18.31 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

18.32 The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

18.33 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

18.34 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

18.35 The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19. DATA PROTECTION

19.1 The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

19.2 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

19.3 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Service Provider shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

19.4 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.5 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

19.6 The Service Provider undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.7 The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

19.8 Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

19.9 The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

19.10 The Customer warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.11 The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

19.12 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.13 The Contractor shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

19.14 The Service Provider undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.15 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

19.16 The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

19.17 The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.18 The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

19.19 The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

19.20 The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

19.21 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

19.22 The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

19.23 The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.24 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Service Provider undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.25 The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

19.26 The Contractor undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Service Provider shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

19.27 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

19.28 The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

19.29 The Supplier shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.30 The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.31 The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.32 Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.33 The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

19.34 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty

(30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

19.35 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

20. INFORMATION SECURITY

20.1 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

20.2 Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

20.3 Each Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

20.4 The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.5 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

20.6 The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

20.7 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.8 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

20.9 The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

20.10 The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

20.11 The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

20.12 The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.13 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

20.14 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.15 Each Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

20.16 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.17 The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.18 The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Neither Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.19 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

20.20 The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

20.21 The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

20.22 The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.23 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

20.24 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

20.25 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

20.26 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

20.27 Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

20.28 The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.29 The Supplier shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

20.30 Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

20.31 Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

20.32 Neither Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

20.33 The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

20.34 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

20.35 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

21. WARRANTIES

21.1 The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

21.2 The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

21.3 Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

21.4 Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

21.5 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

21.6 The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

21.7 Neither Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

21.8 Neither Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

21.9 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

21.10 The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

21.11 The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

21.12 Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

21.13 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

21.14 Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

21.15 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

21.16 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

21.17 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

21.18 The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

21.19 Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

21.20 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

21.21 Neither Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

21.22 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

21.23 The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

21.24 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

21.25 The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

21.26 Neither Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

21.27 The Service Provider shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

21.28 Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

21.29 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

21.30 Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

21.31 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

21.32 The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Contractor undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

21.33 The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

21.34 Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

21.35 The Contractor undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

22. INDEMNITIES

22.1 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.2 The Contractor warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

22.3 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

22.4 Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

22.5 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

22.6 Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

22.7 Neither Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.8 Neither Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

22.9 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.10 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

22.11 The Contractor undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

22.12 Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

22.13 The Customer undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

22.14 The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.15 The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

22.16 Each Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

22.17 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.18 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

22.19 Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Service Provider shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

22.20 Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.21 The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

22.22 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.23 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.24 The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

22.25 Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.26 The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.27 The Supplier shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

22.28 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

22.29 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

22.30 The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

22.31 The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.32 The Contractor shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

22.33 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

22.34 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

22.35 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

23. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

23.1 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

23.2 The Customer shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

23.3 Neither Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

23.4 Subject to clause 23.1, the total aggregate liability of each Party under or in connection with this Agreement shall not exceed AED 2,500,000 in any Contract Year.

23.5 The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

23.6 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

23.7 The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.8 The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.9 The Service Provider shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

23.10 The Supplier undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

23.11 Each Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.12 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

23.13 The Service Provider undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

23.14 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

23.15 Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

23.16 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

23.17 The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

23.18 The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

23.19 The Customer shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

23.20 The Contractor shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

23.21 Neither Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.22 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.23 The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

23.24 Each Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Supplier shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

23.25 The Customer undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.26 The Supplier undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.27 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

23.28 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

23.29 Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

23.30 The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

23.31 The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.32 The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.33 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

23.34 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

23.35 The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

24. INSURANCE

24.1 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

24.2 The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

24.3 The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

24.4 The Supplier shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

24.5 The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

24.6 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

24.7 Each Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

24.8 The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

24.9 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

24.10 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

24.11 Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

24.12 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

24.13 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

24.14 Each Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

24.15 Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

24.16 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

24.17 The Contractor shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

24.18 The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

24.19 The Customer warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

24.20 The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

24.21 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

24.22 Each Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

24.23 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

24.24 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

24.25 The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

24.26 The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

24.27 The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

24.28 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

24.29 Each Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

24.30 The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

24.31 The Contractor warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

24.32 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

24.33 The Contractor undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

24.34 Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted.

24.35 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

25. FORCE MAJEURE

25.1 The Customer shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

25.2 The Contractor shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

25.3 The Supplier shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

25.4 Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

25.5 The Service Provider shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

25.6 The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

25.7 The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

25.8 The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

25.9 The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

25.10 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

25.11 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change

Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

25.12 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

25.13 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

25.14 Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

25.15 The Customer warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

25.16 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

25.17 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

25.18 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

25.19 Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

25.20 Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

25.21 Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

25.22 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

25.23 The Customer undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

25.24 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

25.25 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

25.26 The Contractor shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

25.27 The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

25.28 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

25.29 Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

25.30 Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

25.31 Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

25.32 The Service Provider shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

25.33 The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

25.34 The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

25.35 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Neither Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26. TERMINATION

26.1 Each Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

26.2 Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.3 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

26.4 The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

26.5 The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

26.6 Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

26.7 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

26.8 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

26.9 Neither Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.10 Each Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.11 Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.12 The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.13 Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

26.14 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.15 The Supplier warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

26.16 Each Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

26.17 Neither Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

26.18 The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.19 The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

26.20 The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

26.21 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

26.22 The Supplier undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

26.23 The Supplier shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Contractor undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

26.24 Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

26.25 Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

26.26 The Contractor undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.27 The Supplier undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

26.28 The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

26.29 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.30 The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

26.31 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Contractor shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

26.32 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

26.33 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

26.34 The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

26.35 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27. CONSEQUENCES OF TERMINATION

27.1 The Supplier shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.2 The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.3 Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.4 The Supplier undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

27.5 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.6 The Customer shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

27.7 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

27.8 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.9 The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.10 The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

27.11 Each Party undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

27.12 The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

27.13 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

27.14 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

27.15 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

27.16 The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

27.17 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

27.18 Neither Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

27.19 Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

27.20 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.21 The Supplier undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

27.22 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

27.23 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.24 The Contractor warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Supplier shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

27.25 Each Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.26 The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

27.27 The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

27.28 Each Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

27.29 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

27.30 The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

27.31 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

27.32 The Customer shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

27.33 The Customer warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

27.34 The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

27.35 The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Each Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

28. EXIT MANAGEMENT

28.1 The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.2 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Neither Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

28.3 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

28.4 The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

28.5 Each Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

28.6 Neither Party undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

28.7 The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

28.8 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

28.9 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.10 The Contractor undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.11 The Contractor warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

28.12 The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

28.13 Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

28.14 The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.15 Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.16 The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

28.17 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

28.18 The Supplier shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.19 Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.20 The Customer undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

28.21 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

28.22 The Service Provider undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

28.23 The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

28.24 The Supplier warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

28.25 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

28.26 The Contractor shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

28.27 Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.28 The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay.

28.29 The Supplier undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.30 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

28.31 The Supplier shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

28.32 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.33 The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

28.34 The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

28.35 The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

29. GOVERNING LAW AND DISPUTES

29.1 The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.2 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.3 This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of England and Wales. Any dispute shall be finally resolved by arbitration under the LCIA Rules, seated in London.

29.4 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

29.5 The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.6 The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.7 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

29.8 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.9 The Customer warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

29.10 The Supplier shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

29.11 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

29.12 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

29.13 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

29.14 The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

29.15 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

29.16 Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.17 Each Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

29.18 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

29.19 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Service Provider undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.20 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.21 Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.22 Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

29.23 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

29.24 The Customer warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

29.25 Each Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

29.26 Neither Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

29.27 Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

29.28 The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

29.29 Neither Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

29.30 Neither Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

29.31 The Contractor undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

29.32 Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations.

29.33 The Customer shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

29.34 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

29.35 The Contractor undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

30. NOTICES

30.1 The Service Provider shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Service Provider undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

30.2 The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.3 The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.4 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.5 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.6 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.7 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Each Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.8 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

30.9 Neither Party shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.10 The Service Provider shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Contractor undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies.

30.11 The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.12 The Supplier warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

30.13 The Contractor warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer undertakes that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

30.14 Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

30.15 The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

30.16 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

30.17 The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

30.18 The Customer shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Each Party undertakes that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

30.19 Neither Party undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Neither Party warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer shall procure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

30.20 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Contractor shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.21 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Service Provider shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.22 Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Supplier undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

30.23 The Customer shall ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.24 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

30.25 The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

30.26 The Customer shall procure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

30.27 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer shall procure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

30.28 The Customer shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.29 The Customer warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Neither Party undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

30.30 The Customer undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

30.31 The Supplier shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

30.32 The Contractor shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure.

30.33 Neither Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

30.34 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

30.35 The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Each Party warrants that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

31. GENERAL

31.1 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

31.2 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

31.3 Neither Party warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

31.4 The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

31.5 The Supplier warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

31.6 Neither Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

31.7 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier warrants that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

31.8 The Service Provider warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld.

31.9 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Contractor shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

31.10 Neither Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month.

31.11 The Service Provider shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party warrants that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

31.12 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

31.13 Each Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

31.14 Each Party warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

31.15 The Contractor undertakes that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

31.16 The Supplier warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Each Party shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

31.17 The Service Provider shall procure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Neither Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Supplier undertakes that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Supplier shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

31.18 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

31.19 The Contractor shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider undertakes that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

31.20 The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. Each Party warrants that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor shall procure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

31.21 The Contractor shall procure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

31.22 The Service Provider shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

31.23 The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years.

31.24 The Supplier warrants that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party warrants that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer warrants that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

31.25 Each Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Service Provider shall procure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Neither Party undertakes that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

31.26 The Contractor shall ensure that information security incidents are notified without undue delay. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

31.27 The Customer shall ensure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. Each Party shall ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Contractor warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

31.28 Neither Party acknowledges and agrees that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer warrants that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall ensure that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Service Provider shall procure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

31.29 Each Party acknowledges and agrees that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. Each Party shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement.

31.30 Neither Party undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Supplier shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification.

31.31 The Service Provider undertakes that all deliverables conform in all material respects to the Specification. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Contractor undertakes that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement. The Customer warrants that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice.

31.32 Neither Party shall procure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Contractor shall procure that it holds all licences, permits and consents required to perform its obligations. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.

31.33 The Service Provider shall ensure that subcontractors are bound by obligations no less onerous than those in this Agreement. The Contractor shall ensure that key personnel are not replaced without prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Supplier undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation.

31.34 The Supplier acknowledges and agrees that any change to the Services is agreed in writing through the Change Control Procedure. Time shall not be of the essence in respect of this obligation. The Customer shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that reports on service levels are delivered within ten Business Days of the end of each month. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice. Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that all equipment provided is maintained in good working order, fair wear and tear excepted. The Customer may audit compliance on reasonable notice.

31.35 Neither Party shall use reasonable endeavours to ensure that its personnel comply with the Customer's site rules and security policies. Any failure shall be remedied within thirty (30) days of notice. The Customer undertakes that records relating to the Services are maintained for not less than six years. This obligation survives termination of this Agreement.